Humphrey Has No New Plans On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey says he plans no recommendations for additional legislation when he reports to President Johnson on proposals to coordinate the administration's civil rights efforts.

Humphrey said he plans to give his report to Johnson this weekend and that it will contain only suggestions on how to make administration actions more effective in the civil rights field.

The vice president-elect, who resigned Tuesday as a senator from Minnesota, said in an interview that he has held a number of conferences on what Johnson calls the antipoverty program.

He indicated he is moving cautiously in this field until Johnson outlines what he wants in messages to Congress. The President has asked him to serve as a coordinator of both programs.

As a prospective full-time operator for Johnson in several fields, Humphrey's biggest problem at the moment is to find space in the Capitol building from which to carry on his forthcoming duties as presiding officer of the Senate.

Johnson has assigned him a four-room suite in the Executive Office Building next door to the White House. Humphrey has a small suite in the Senate Office Building but as yet he has been unable to wrangle any conference room space in the Capitol. Johnson had several conference rooms there when he was vice president.

Kohler Offers To Rehire 57 Fired In Strike

KOHLER, Wis. (AP)—Kohler Co. says it is offering reinstatement to 57 fired for alleged misconduct in a six-year strike by the United Auto Workers, but will continue to press for a court review of a National Labor Relations Board order forcing the rehiring.

The UAW struck against Kohler in 1954 and a violence-ridden strike continued until 1960. The union accused the company of failing to bargain in good faith on a new contract and was upheld by the NLRB.

The NLRB, reversing a previous decision, ordered the plumbingware firm to offer reinstatement to those discharged for alleged misconduct. The company filed a petition, which still is pending, with the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington asking a review of the NLRB decision.

Lyman C. Conger, vice president, said offers of reinstatement do not constitute abandonment of the company's appeal and they, in effect, establish a cutoff date for any possible accrual of back pay.

Conger said the offers do not include any back pay and that this question must await the outcome of current litigation.

Specialist Sees Break Near To Control Cancer

MONTREAL (AP) — An American cancer specialist forecasts that final breakthroughs toward controlling cancer by vaccines and miraculous curative drugs will be achieved "quicker than we'll get to the moon" — perhaps soon after 1970.

Dr. Jacob Gershon-Cohen of Philadelphia said he based that prediction on his confidence that by that time:

1. Final proof will have been established that many, if not most, cancers are caused by viruses; and 2. Further development will have been made on recent discoveries in understanding the structure of the basic core of all viruses — specifically, the nucleic acids DNA and RNA.

He said these discoveries are "probably more significant, if less appreciated by the public, than the unlocking of atomic energy."

Gershon-Cohen, a radiologist of the Albert Einstein Medical Center, spoke at a news conference prior to acting as chairman today of a symposium on viruses and cancer at the 131st meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Gershon-Cohen also told newsmen:

1. Achievement of better control over ordinary viruses — including those of the common cold — may help reduce the danger of getting cancer. It is possible some such viruses may be insidious helpers of cancer causers, or even cancer causers themselves.

2. The day will come when the taking of the temperature of specific areas of the body with devices based on infra-red detection techniques "will be as important as X-ray" in helping detect ailments.

3. All people may be harboring latent, non-active cancer viruses — with cancer developing only in those people exposed to some triggering action such as excessive radiation, certain chemicals, or some internal disturbance.

"I think we'll get positive results quicker than we'll get to the moon," said Gershon-Cohen.

High Post Seen For Tennessee Ex-Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports circulated today in political, government and farm circles that President Johnson will name former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington as secretary or undersecretary of agriculture.

Some sources said Ellington may be named to a high advisory post at the White House. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reportedly was making a check on him of the type that is routine for possible appointees to high government posts.

Ellington returned to Tennessee Tuesday night after visiting Johnson at his Texas ranch. He said he usually makes such a visit during the holidays. In reply to a question, he said he had no plans to leave Tennessee at this time.

The White House has not commented on the possibility that Ellington might take a federal post.

As for the Agriculture Department possibilities, neither Secretary Orville L. Freeman nor Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy has indicated any intention to resign. Nor has Johnson given an indication that he wants either of them to quit.

Ellington, 57, is a Democrat and has a farm background. He was reared on one, operated one, and served as Tennessee's commissioner of agriculture from 1953 to 1958. He was elected to a four-year term as governor in 1958.

Four years ago he figured in speculation about appointment as secretary of agriculture in the Kennedy administration. He said then he intended to serve his full term as governor.

More Workers Needed At MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University is running into a shortage of students who are working their way through college, leaving some departments short-staffed.

"We had quite a time getting enough to cover the work day," said John Kennedy, manager of the Crossroads Cafeteria on campus and of concessions at special events, such as football games.

"It has been nip and tuck all fall," said Emory G. Foster, manager of dormitories and food services. "We're hoping there will be some loosening up this winter term."

Foster said last term his department found only 2,600 of the needed 2,850 to work for $1.25 an hour at various jobs in dormitories and on-campus restaurants.

He said, though, some of the difficulty lies in department policy of telling freshmen to establish their grades before taking a part-time job.

Foster said some units in his department had to fill jobs by scheduling longer hours for students willing to work them.

The Student Recruiting Office said during the 1963-64 school year it had 5,539 jobs available and only 4,846 takers.

Plane Plunges In Fog; 4 Killed

NEW BOSTON (AP)—Four persons were killed today in the crash of a C-46 cargo plane attempting an instrument landing in foggy weather.

The plane plowed through trees, breaking itself apart and scattering wreckage over hundreds of yards. It fell approximately four miles southwest of Detroit's Metropolitan Airport, its destination.

Victims were identified by Zantop Air Transport Inc., an all-cargo airline, as:

Al Fallon, Santa Rosa, Calif.; Hugo L. Blair, Elmhurst, N.Y.; J.R. Reed, Mantario, Sask., and Dale S. Grisham, San Antonio, Tex.

All were employees of Zantop. Fallon was captain and Blair second officer on the ill-fated plane. The other two were deadheading on a routine Cleveland to Detroit flight carrying general cargo.

Duane A. Zantop, one of the firm's owners, said there was as yet "no known cause or suggestion of cause."

The bulk of the wreckage ended up in an open field in Huron Township, in western Wayne County outside Detroit.

A tower controller operator at Metropolitan Airport fixed the crash time as 2:24 a.m. He said he could see the plane on his radar scope and spoke to the pilot "about a minute before it crashed."

Runaway Youth Reconciled To Leg Amputation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ronald Baker, the 16-year-old who once ran away from home rather than face the amputation of his leg—is in a Los Angeles hospital, awaiting surgery.

Ronald is now reconciled to the fact that he must lose his leg.

He can even joke about it. The operation is planned Thursday.

"I guess I won't dance the old year out," Ronald said.

He said his attitude has changed because doctors have convinced him he must have the operation—or die from cancer.

Also, he said, he has received encouragement from many people who have resumed full, happy lives after undergoing similar operation.

Families Start Digging Out In 5-State Flood

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West's "flood of a thousand years" entered the recovery stage today as 15,000 homeless families and hundreds of stricken farms and businesses dug out from nature's $1-billion blow.

"As far as the real emergency — that's over, right now," said Jim Morrison, Civil Defense spokesman at Eureka, Calif., in hard-hit Humboldt County.

The report was identical in the five flood-distressed states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

Victims Return

Helicopters and jeeps brought the first outside food supplies in a week Tuesday to the last known isolated pocket — 500 persons stranded in lumbering villages west of Yreka, Calif., near the Oregon border.

"Everything's beginning to look a lot rosier," reported Bill Sowle, Yreka Civil Defense chief.

"They're getting back down into the towns now and starting to dig out," said Morrison. "No more people want to be evacuated. They want to be sustained where they are."

The flood, described by Department of Interior water specialists as probably the greatest ever experienced in the West, caused 19 known deaths in California and 18 in Oregon.

It carved federally designated disaster areas out of northern California, Oregon and Washington, where federal, local and charitable organizations are running emergency recovery centers on a "for-the-duration" basis.

California's damage was estimated at upwards of $500 million.

Worst In History

In Oregon, many evacuees returned to devastation left by the Willamette River. Oregon's damage totaled $315 million in what Gov. Mark Hatfield terms his state's worst disaster.

At Reedsport, an estimated 1,500 persons were still receiving clothing and food from volunteer centers and the Red Cross. Several dozen homeless were bedded down at the Independence, Ore., city hall.

In Washington, latest state to be added to the disaster list by President Johnson, most high-water problems have ended. No persons are known to be stranded.

The Yakima River in central Washington posed a potential threat because of two huge ice jams, one a mile long and the other three miles in length. Many passes in the Cascade Mountains remained closed by snow slides.

Washington estimated its damage as $7 million.

In Idaho and Nevada, snow or cold weather prevailed, replacing flood conditions unusual for those areas. Rivers neared normal levels.

Idaho estimated damage as $5 million. Nevada officials ventured no dollar estimate of damage.

Johnson City, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson works on the budget and his State of the Union message today, reportedly making good progress on both.

Foreign affairs also demanded the President's attention. He is to receive a call from George C. McGhee, U.S. ambassador to Bonn, who will review with Johnson developments in West Germany.

Johnson still has some major budget decisions to make, and he'll study these today with Budget Director Kermit Gordon. Still to be decided are how much to ask for a big education package, whether to seek a pay raise for government civilians, and how much will be needed for what Johnson calls his antipoverty program.

Johnson discussed the world situation Tuesday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, touching bright spots as well as gloomy ones.

Officials said Rusk had told Johnson he regards Southeast Asia and the Congo with deep concern. But he reportedly told the President of some signs of rival factions in South Viet Nam are moving toward some semblance of unity. Rusk feels this is a prime requirement in the war against Viet Cong Communists.

Highway Projects For 1965 Total Over 166 Million

LANSING (AP) — The Highway Department reports construction projects totaling $166.5 million will be placed under contract in Michigan during 1965.

The projects will include construction or modernization of about 512 miles of highways in 54 counties.

Highway Commissioner John Mackie says more than $1.5 billion has been spent on highway construction in Michigan since 1957.

Americans Are Killed In Clash With Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces recaptured the district capital of Binh Nghia today, but the Viet Cong captured two U.S. enlisted men and wiped out nearly two companies of government troops.

Two other U.S. soldiers, members of the Special Forces, were killed Tuesday night in another action 30 miles north of Saigon. Their deaths brought to 241 the number of Americans killed in combat since December 1961.

Thirteen Americans now are missing.

Six U.S. servicemen also were wounded in the three-day battle for Binh Nghia, 40 miles east of Saigon. Fighting still flickered Wednesday evening, but the Viet Cong was believed to have made its final onslaught on the town.

Troops Poured In

At the peak of the fighting some 1,200 government troops faced about the same number of Communists, making it one of the largest engagements in Viet Nam in the past four years.

Three U.S. helicopters were shot down Tuesday.

The town, jammed with 6,000 Roman Catholic refugees from Communist North Viet Nam, was occupied by the Viet Cong on Dec. 5 but government forces drove them out.

A powerful Viet Cong unit overran Binh Nghia again Monday. Two government Ranger companies tried to re-enter the town but were driven out. U.S. helicopters poured in troops Tuesday for the final assault.

In a seething battle around the town Tuesday, 175 battle-hardened Vietnamese Rangers were pinned down by the Viet Cong. This unit suffered at least 24 killed and an unknown number of wounded and missing.

Many of the missing were seen being led off as captives of the Viet Cong. Among them were two American advisers.

Another Coup Coming?

In Saigon, a number of officials said they believed another coup attempt was afoot.

Outwardly things appeared peaceful as negotiations continued on the dispute between U.S. authorities and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the armed forces chief, over military intervention in South Viet Nam's civilian government. But there was widespread fear, apparently based on inside information, that a new and possibly violent plot was about to hatch.

Khanh and his general staff continued conferring at the seaside resort of Cap St. Jacques not far from beleaguered Binh Nghia.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor conferred with civilian Premier Tran Van Huong. No break appeared in the 11-day-old deadlock.

However, Secretary of State Dean Rusk was reported to have told President Johnson Tuesday that the next few days may see steps in Viet Nam toward establishing a measure of unity in the divided government.

In Washington, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he wants a re-evaluation of the U.S. position in South Viet Nam.

Informed sources in Seoul said South Korea has decided to send about 1,200 army men and marines to South Viet Nam to serve as technical instructors. There was no official confirmation.

Bullet-Proof Glass Ordered To Shield President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taking a tip from J. Edgar Hoover, the Secret Service has ordered a shield of bulletproof glass for President Johnson when he views the inaugural parade Jan. 20.

And officials are considering a similar precaution on the inauguration platform at the U.S. Capitol.

The Warren Commission that investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy asked FBI Director Hoover his recommendations for improving presidential protection.

Red China Boasts Of Strong Army

TOKYO (AP) — Red China claimed today its army, bolstered by new technical equipment and cleansed of the "bourgeois military line," is stronger than ever before.

Vice Premier Lo Jui-ching, former secret police chief who heads the army general staff, told the National People's Congress in Peking that the army is "a completely new type" securely under Communist party influence.

Wyandotte Gets Aid In Pollution

WYANDOTTE (AP)—The city of Wyandotte has been awarded an $18,000 grant from a federal agency to help in curbing air pollution. It makes Wyandotte the first city in Michigan to receive such federal help.

The grant was approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Legislators Ask Reinstatement Of Guard Generals

LANSING (AP) — The Legislative Audit Commission recommended by a 4-3 vote today that Michigan's two suspended National Guard generals be reinstated.

The action, taken after nearly two hours of discussion, carries no legal weight.

The resolution, offered by lame-duck Sen. Joseph Smeekens, R-Coldwater, said the commission has reviewed the National Guard allegations disclosed Oct. 8 and finds:

"No charges of misfeasance or malfeasance can be properly sustained against either or both Major General Ronald D. McDonald or Brigadier General Carson R. Neifert . . . nor does this committee find that either of these two officers have been derelict in their duties . . ."

McDonald, the state's adjutant general, and Neifert, the quartermaster general were fired Oct. 8 by Gov. George Romney because of a land, money and liquor scandal. He later reinstated them on advice of the attorney general but the two were immediately suspended by Maj. Gen. C. L. Simmons, head of the State Military Board.

The resolution recommended that Simmons withdraw his suspensions.

The commission heard direct testimony from the two generals.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, led the fight against the resolution, claiming he wanted to hear direct testimony from Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum first. Farnum's office prepared the report on which Romney and Simmons based their actions.

"I think we would look bad whitewashing these charges without hearing from the auditor general," said Green.

Smeekens insisted that the summary report prepared for Romney by Farnum was all that was needed from the auditor general.

Admiral Whitney's Son Killed In Navy Air Crash

Word of the death of Lt. (j. g.) Richard K. Whitney, 25, son of Mrs. Stellamaris Whitney of Long Beach, Calif., and the late Rear Admiral Rintoul Whitney, a former resident of Escanaba, was received by Gust Asp in a Christmas message from Mrs. Whitney.

Lt. Whitney, a Navy flier, and another member of Navy Attack Squadron 152 were returning to Alameda Naval Air Station in their planes after a practice bombing mission when the crash occurred. The other pilot crashlanded his plane safely on a dry lake bed after the craft's engine failed. Flying overhead to direct a rescue helicopter picking up the pilot, Whitney's plane suddenly plunged to the ground and burned a mile away.

Services were held at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station and burial was in Ft. Rosecrans National Cemetery, San Diego.

Lt. Whitney is survived by his mother and one sister, Zoe Joyce Whitney.

A CARGO of flax is taken on by the Ferris at Superior.

Logs 50,000 Miles:

Ship's Master Has Busy Year

The Escanaba area has had many lake-faring men through the years but one of the busiest this past season was Capt. Helmer T. Krusell of 126 N. 23rd St., who is in command of the freighter James E. Ferris.

Bringing the Ferris to her winter quarters at Cleveland on Dec. 15, Capt. Krusell was home three days later for the holidays with his family. He has a daughter, Rita, a student at Mount Mary at Milwaukee, and a son, Paul, in the 8th grade at St. Joseph's School.

"My father was a sailor on the Coast back in the days of sailing ships, but Paul will not go sailing if his mother can help it," said Capt. Krusell.

After a busy season, Capt. Krusell will spend the winter in Escanaba. There's no vacation in the South in his plans. "I like it right here," he said. He will be called back to his boat about the first week in April.

Made 20 Trips

Capt. Krusell's boat is one of the Buckeye Steamship Co. fleet, is 444 feet long, and has been praised as "a workhorse of the lakes" in a recent article in the Superior (Wis.) Evening Telegram. She was among the last vessels to take on cargo there—320,000 bushels of flax consigned for winter storage by Sherwin Williams Co. of Cleveland.

"During the 1964 season the Ferris carried a variety of bulk cargo that is a record for her size," the Evening Telegram reported.

"She has made 20 round trips between the Twin Ports and Lake Erie ports, but in those 20 trips she has loaded and unloaded 45 cargoes consisting of salt, stone, soda ash, cement clinkers, ore, wheat and coal."

"On many of her trips during the 1964 navigation season she has carried two loads on her upbound trips to Lake Superior. She would carry a load of coal to a Lake Michigan port and then pick up a load of stone, salt or cement clinkers for the head of the lakes."

Need Small Boats

"Her tonnage for the year was a half-million tons, with grain cargo much of her total. She has carried 10 loads of salt to the Superior-Duluth harbor and is the only small ship in the line that can navigate, with proper clearance, into the Twin Ports salt dock," the Evening Telegram article concludes.

Capt. Krusell says that he's not at all sure of "any record being set by the Ferris" this year—but he does know its has been a busy season. In the trend toward larger and longer vessels, the master of the 444-foot Ferris was asked if the smaller craft are not on their way out.

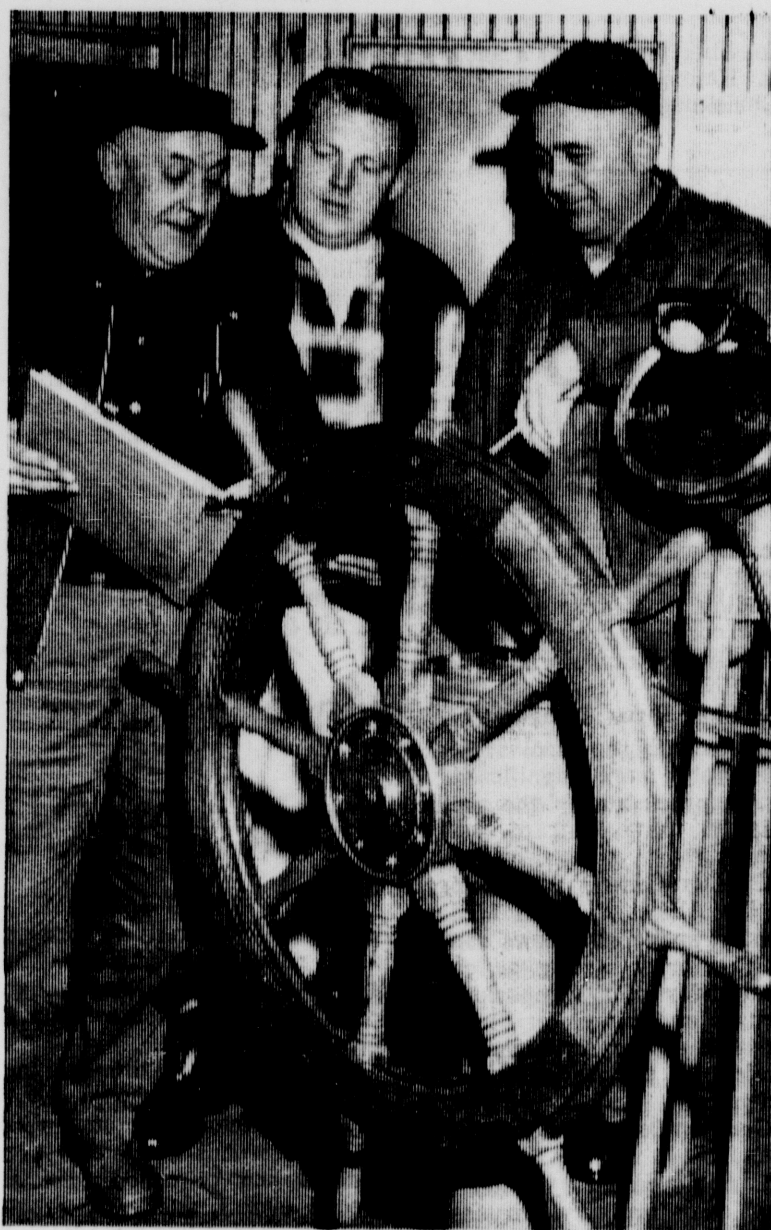

"I don't think so," he replied. "There's lots of cargoes—cargoes of many kinds—that need the service provided by the smaller boats. And besides there are many docks that can only be approached by boats like the Ferris."

Log 50,000 Miles

With Capt. Krusell as her master the Ferris logged 50,000 miles in her Great Lakes travels this year. Her first mate is Ed Nalazek of Boreo, Ohio, and a member of her crew is Larry Paquin of Escanaba. Paquin is a porter and has been on the Ferris for three years.

Homer Trombly of 211 N. 19th St., Escanaba, is a member of the crew of another Buckeye Co. vessel, the ore carrier Ishpeming, which was among the last to pass through the locks in closing the 1964 season.

Among other Escanaba mariners is Capt. A. W. Armstrong, whose mother, Mrs. Lillian Armstrong, resides at 523 S. 17th St. Capt. Armstrong is master of the tanker Martha E. Allen—the Standard Oil boat that was second to the last at this port this year. The Allen worked her way through six miles of ice to reach the terminal here on Sunday.

Junior Rifle Club Organized By Ensigners

ENSIGN—The first meeting of the Ensigners' 4-H Junior Rifle Club was held Monday, Dec. 28 at the Ensign Township Hall with 20 members in attendance. Instructors, Stanley Dominick, William Mauhar and Thomas Safford led the club in the first of five winter meetings. The subject matter included an hour of registration and general discussion of the rules and aims of the club, followed by talks on game laws and licensing, hunting accidents, and regulations and the hunter safety code.

The Ensigners' 4-H Junior Rifle Club is a conservation project of the Ensigners' 4-H Club. The Rifle Club recently applied for and was granted affiliation with the National Rifle Association. The club plans include a winter session of instruction in safe gun handling and basic marksmanship fundamentals, followed by a summer session of meetings on the rifle range where instructions on shooting and safety will be put into practice.

Throughout the winter and summer sessions instruction will follow standard courses supplied by Michigan Department of Conservation, the National Rifle Association and the 4-H Gun Safety Project.

The summer session will start about June 1 with the Rifle Club finishing work on the rifle range under construction on the new McDonald Lake Road in Ensign. Range shooting instruction will follow the club competitive shooting will be carried on throughout the summer.

Persons other than club members are invited to attend the meetings. The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 11 from 7 to 9 p. m. at the Ensign Township Hall.

Jet Age Farms Will Be Fewer

By J. L. HEIRMAN

The year 1964 is all but history. There isn't anything that can be done to change the happenings, but changes will occur in the future over which we still have some control.

Many people are asking what the predictions are for the 10 years ahead in agriculture. We are glad they only asked for predictions because this leaves some room for error, like predicting the weather.

We will paint our scene with a broad brush and leave it in such a condition that extra daubs can be added. We feel that the decade ahead will really see agriculture on the move. Unless we have the capacity of broad vision, we will be left behind in the fog.

Today one farmer can feed himself and 30 others. It took over 100 years to accomplish this record, but we are looking into the crystal ball and see where this will increase to 60 people in another 10 years. Only five per cent of our population will be found on farms in 1975.

We lost 20 per cent of our farms during the past 10 years. We will lose 20 per cent of the farms that now exist by 1975. We will stick out our neck and say that small farms can still exist, but will have to show a high degree of efficiency.

These predictions do not mean the agriculture is falling apart at the seams. It means that agriculture is keeping abreast of other industries. Today jet airliners carry 120 people across our continent in five to six hours. A couple of decades ago an airliner carried 25 people and took all of 24 hours to cover the same distance. We couldn't say that air transportation is falling apart.

How are we going to move so fast in the next 10 years? Science will take over. We will produce animals of higher quality and less feed, and milk with less feed. Mrs. Consumer will be buying more high protein food than she does today and cut down on starchy products. The family farm will become larger, with more investment.

The continuous march of science will revolutionize agriculture. Ten years from now cultivation will almost be unheard of. Chemicals will take over. Automation will reduce chore time by 35 per cent—and we feel we are very efficient now! By 1975 we may be operating a nuclear farm tractor with enough fuel locked in to outlast the bearings of the machine.

Farmers will gradually grow products for a given market that was pre-arranged, not plant and then hope for a market. Farmers may also hold on to the product longer from the time it produced until the consumer buys it. Farmers will really be businessmen as they become more involved in marketing.

A final gaze tells us that farmers will become closer knit with families of urban workers. A goodly number of people living in the country now work in industry. This trend will continue and the rural community will still exist, with a mixture of interests rather than just farmers. We feel this will give everyone a better understanding of each other's problems.

No Recount On Millage Asked

The three-vote victory for the Escanaba Area Public School District on its 4.5 mill tax proposal for five years remained uncontested Tuesday as the date for filing recount petitions expired.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett said today that the Board of Education had not received any petition asking for a recount. Reports had circulated last week that the Escanaba Taxpayers Association, active campaigners against the proposal, were planning to seek a recount.

The millage request was approved 2,544 to 2,541.

All voting, except for 108 ballots cast in Cornell Township, was done by voting machine.

State law provides that in school elections of the type held by the Escanaba Area School District last week recount petitions containing not less than 10 per cent of the total vote cast must be filed within six days of certification of the vote.

The vote on the proposal was certified by the Board of Canvassers last Wednesday.

Johnson Newsmaker Of Year

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The 36th President of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson, has been chosen newsmaker of the year for 1964.

LBJ, who became President at the assassination of John F. Kennedy in 1963 and this year won the presidential election, was selected by editors of AP member newspapers and TV stations.

Johnson settled the railroad strike in April and sent planes to bomb PT boat bases in North Viet Nam after the boats had twice attacked American destroyers in Tonkin Gulf. He got his two major items of legislation, the tax cut and Civil Rights bills, through congress.

Johnson entertained and campaigned for election Texas style, dancing with lady guests at the White House and throwing campaign barbecues. He pulled the ears of his beagles, announced such economies as closing certain military bases and turning off the lights in the White House. His administration was touched by two scandals, involving Bobby Baker and Walter Jenkins.

When Americans went to the polls Nov. 3, they elected Johnson by a larger plurality than they had given Roosevelt and Eisenhower, in fact the largest in U. S. history.

Nikita Khrushchev, who was ousted as Soviet premier and Communist first secretary, was Starr, Paul McCartney and Paul Harrison took back to England more than $1 million for a month of 40 performances. Their record albums sold more than 2.5 million in the first month of release; their movie grossed more than $1.6 million in its first week in America. And Ringo survived having his tonsils out.

Ian Fleming, whose career to some extent paralleled that of James Bond, the British secret agent he invented, died Aug. 12 in a Canterbury, England, hospital. Sales of the James Bond books are in the millions. Three have been now made into movies. It is estimated that Fleming made more than $2.8 million in royalties. Fleming, who was 56, suffered a heart attack while writing his 13th thriller about secret agent 007.

Lady Bird Johnson, the most active American first lady since Eleanor Roosevelt, as woman newsmaker of the year, received her first honorary degree March 31, from Texas Woman's University, made speeches, stood in receiving lines and visited "pockets of of the Soviet Union," the country's highest award.

Then in October Khrushchev's portrait disappeared from a Moscow building and Tass announced he was being replaced by two of his lieutenants, Leonid Brezhnev as party secretary and Alexei Kosygin as premier.

Khrushchev, who had wound up in an ideological fight with Red China and failed to drive the West out of Berlin, had decided to retire, Moscow said.

Other winners in the newsmaker poll taken by The Associated Press are: science, Dr. Eugene Guthrie; business, Henry Ford II; labor, James Hoffa; religion, Pope Paul VI; sports, Cassius Clay; entertainment, the Beatles; literature, Ian Fleming; woman newsmaker, Lady Bird Johnson.

Dr. Eugene Guthrie, veteran Public Health Service medical officer, was staff director of the government's 10-man special advisory committee on smoking and health. The panel, which took 14 months to evaluate more than 8,000 studies of the effect of smoking on health, reported Jan. 11 that cigarette smoking far outweighs all other causes of lung cancer and cancer of the larynx.

The Ford Motor Company, under Henry Ford II, this year introduced a sports car, the Mustang, which has been a big success; the company already has built 271,332 of the model.

Ford, who supported Eisenhower and Nixon, was one of the first from big business to endorse Lyndon Johnson for the presidency. Ford was divorced Feb. 13, 1964, and is rumored to be engaged to Italian-born Mrs. Christiana Austin, 35.

James Hoffa, president of the 1.5 million-member Teamsters Union, received his first conviction in five federal trials in seven years on March 4 in Chattanooga. He was declared guilty of trying to rig a federal court jury in 1962, sentenced to eight years and fined $10,000. He appealed. In Chicago Aug. 17 Hoffa was again sentenced, to five years and fined $10,000 for fraud in obtaining loans from the union's $280 million pension fund.

Pope Paul VI in January made the first papal plane trip, a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. In Jerusalem he met with Patriarch Athenagoras, first meeting in five centuries between leaders of the Catholic and Orthodox churches. In December, the Pope made the longest papal journey in history to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay, India.

He reopened the Vatican Council, begun by his predecessor, Pope John XXIII, for its third session Sept. 14.

Cassius Clay, 22, self-proclaimed "the greatest," won the world heavyweight championship from 29-year-old Sonny Liston in the seventh round in Miami Beach Feb. 25. Two days after the fight, Clay announced he had become a member of the Black Muslims. Because of Clay's hernia operation Nov. 13, a title rematch between Clay and Liston was postponed until 1965.

The Beatles, mop-topped rock 'n' roll quartet from Liverpool, became the overwhelming idols of the adolescents in 1964. After the second of two month-long tours of the United States, John Lennon, Ringo

George Coplan Dies Suddenly

George L. Coplan, 66, of 404 S. 9th St., a member of a widely known Escanaba family, died unexpectedly at 9:45 a. m. today at St. Francis Hospital, one hour after his admittance.

Mr. Coplan was born in Escanaba April 23, 1898, and was a life-long resident of the community. He was associated with the B. A. Coplan Iron & Metal Co.

He was a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge, B'nai B'rith and Congregational Bethel.

Surviving are his wife, the former Anna A. Itkin; four sisters, Mrs. Everett (Evelyn) Lewis, Mrs. Marion Roth and Mrs. Norbert (Zelda) Traub, Chicago, and Mrs. Abe (Pearl) Pareskin, Milwaukee; and three brothers, William and Herman, Chicago and Robert, Escanaba.

The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home. Arrangements for services will be completed later today.

Hearing Society Founder Dies At Lansing, Age 75

Mrs. M. Bethel Clifford, one of the founders of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing and an author of the Better Hearing and Speech Society of Escanaba, died in Lansing Sunday at the age of 75. She had devoted her life to helping the deaf and hard of hearing.

Mrs. Clifford was president of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing four terms, taught lipreading to the hearing handicapped throughout the state, gave advice and encouragement, helped secure employment and helped local hearing societies to organize. Important among her accomplishments is the present day hearing testing program provided school children by the state.

Born deaf, Mrs. Clifford struggled through her education, several years behind her twin sister, and later went on to college. A year ago she gained her hearing through the new ear surgery.

New Pastor At Rapid River

RAPID RIVER — The Rev. Ralph Oman has accepted the pastorate at Rapid River Congregational Church and the Isabella Congregational Church. Rev. Oman will deliver his first sermon from the Congregational pulpits Sunday, Feb. 7.

Rev. Oman comes to the Rapid River church from Jackson, Mich., where he has served three years as pastor of the Plymouth Congregational.

The two area churches have been without a resident pastor since the first of June when the former minister, the Rev. Charles Hazard, left to accept a ministerial assignment in Fulton, Mich.

The Rev. Otto Steen, Manitowish, a retired Methodist minister, has been serving the Rapid River church during the absence of a resident minister.

The Rapid River congregation is busy redecorating the parsonage for the arrival of the new minister and his wife.

Another Good Year

The year now closing was a good one for the Escanaba Area.

The area did not have great growth, but it maintained a sound economy, increased its employment, advanced its value, maintained its population or increased it slightly under stabilizing new influences like Bay de Noc Community College, and enjoyed general prosperity and a fine reputation.

The year's biggest civic celebration was the Iron Ore Centennial honoring the Chicago & North Western Railway for 100 years of operation of an ore dock and railway here, an outstandingly successful municipal tribute which came in a year which saw the C&NW dock ship nearly 6.5 million tons of ore.

The North Western also made the greatest investment in the community in the year, $1,300,000 in the repair of its big ore dock and in the dredging of the dock slips to permit full loading of the largest lake carriers.

The ore haul also provided one of the sharpest comments on economic and industrial change, as more than two million tons of the season's ore shipment was pelletized iron, an unprecedented movement of this new beneficiated and agglomerated iron which is giving new life to the Upper Peninsula's iron industry.

The new Delta County jail was the county's largest capital investment by local government. It is an excellent jail and it was paid for with a single year's levy of 2 mills, plus federal aid. It is difficult to throw many civic raptures over a penal institution, but no community is well equipped without one and Delta County need no longer fear for the safety of its erring charges. The new jail has a setting like the Hilton Caribe beside Bay de Noc and while it may be too good for a jail, it is at least a handsome jail and a credit to the complex of new buildings in the Government Plaza at the end of Ludington St.

More to the community's liking was the dedication of the handsome new Immanuel Lutheran Church on S. 23rd St. And the First Methodist Church and Central Methodist Church announced that their financing campaigns were successful and that they will build an addition and a new church, respectively.

A major sewer project was started by the city to complete a trunk from near Ludington St., to 18th Ave. S. and it will be completed in the near year.

Urban renewal in the downtown shopping district was launched with the City Planning Commission's presentation of its studies to City Council and its support of action in 1965.

James Pascoe, the builder, said he'd erect an apartment house in 1965 on the former St. Anne's School site, supplying a type of housing for which Escanaba has felt a need for many years.

Harnischfeger got back to a payroll high water mark of 1,000 jobs with three shifts operating in production of truck cranes and other products and a husky backlog of orders promising good things for 1965.

Mead Corp.'s Escanaba Division spent $100,000 on an interceptor system to reduce the solids in the effluent that it discharges from its pulp and paper mill into the Escanaba River. It is part of a continuing program to reduce pollution.

The Marble Arms plant in Gladstone was sold by ITT-Bell & Gossett, Inc., to a group of Gladstone businessmen and continued in operation, an industrial victory of grass roots venture.

Gladstone and Delta County were less fortunate with their Armory venture as all armory projects in the state were suspended.

The community lived in harmony and when it counted its blessings instead of its irritations, when it compared the living it offered to its people with what was offered elsewhere, it was apt to be impressed that 1964 was a good year and that general happiness was achieved. It takes a special kind of wisdom to recognize good times when they're happening. We believe we had them in 1964.

Virgin Minds

It has long been claimed, especially by people who sell things to us, that the average American has the mental capacity of a 12-year-old. A recent survey by the University of Michigan indicates that this libels 12-year-olds.

A study of public knowledge of and opinion on Asia was carried out by the university's Survey Research Center. It revealed:

● One-fourth of the 1,501 people questioned did not know that mainland China was ruled by the Communists.

● About the same number didn't know there was fighting going on in South Viet Nam.

● More than a third had never heard of the Nationalist Chinese government on Taiwan.

The people surveyed seem to represent a typical cross section of American society. There were 647 men and 854 women. Their educations ranged from grade school only through college degrees. Occupations included day laborers, farmers, housewives and professional people.

The majority of those saying, "I don't know" were among the less educated and a greater percentage of them were women.

But how so many people with eyes, ears and daily newspapers could possibly escape knowing about Red China and Viet Nam is a question many people will ask.

Another likely reaction is to question why these people should be allowed to vote. If they've never heard of Red China, how can they take any intelligent part in deciding our national policy toward that country?

It's a natural reaction, but where do we make the cutoff point between informed people and ignorant people? Who is to decide who is intellectually qualified?

A minimum number of years of schooling? But some of the "don't knows" in this survey were high school graduates. It's also a good way to disfranchise minority groups.

It should be recalled that during World War II, because of wartime necessity, only an extremely small circle of highly informed, trained, intelligent people participated in some of the most important decisions of the time.

They made some terrific blunders. We still suffer from them.

No. It's still as Winston Churchill said: Democracy is the worst government there is — except for all the other kinds that have ever been tried.

"The Season to be Jolly Is Over!"

Nigeria Chief Hope Hermansville

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Year-end elections, the first in five years, could have an important effect on the valued stability of populous Nigeria.

This relatively sturdy rock, whose 55 million people comprise roughly a fifth of all Africa's population, stands in many ways as the brightest hope in the huge collection of new African states.

In the elections called to fill 312 seats in Nigeria's lower house, two major coalitions of parties are arrayed in what could prove to be a close fight. Most of the individual parties have a strongly regional base in a nation with sharp regional and ethnic divisions.

Caught up though it is in the confusions of an ardent campaign, Nigeria nevertheless spoke dramatically in the United Nations in opposition to 18 lesser African states which, in strident racist tones, lashed the U. S.-Belgian air rescue of beleaguered whites and blacks from the Congo.

The big point is not, however, that Africa's most populous land spoke up for us and for the duly constituted Congolese government of Moise Tshombe. It is that Nigeria holds so much promise for the future and can conceivably lead the way toward a broader African stability.

Hopefully, the common sense balance now prevailing in Nigeria among its rival tribes and regions will not be upset if the leading party element in the outgoing government — the Northern People's Congress — is somehow thrust aside in the Dec. 30 voting.

The NPC's leader, Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, is the present Nigerian prime minister. His party gained more than a third of all House seats in the 1959 elections. It governed through coalition with other parties.

Today the NPC is campaigning as part of a seven-party alliance with itself and the Nigerian National Democratic party the largest elements.

The rival group is the United Progressive Grand Alliance, in which the most important constituent parties are the National Council of Nigerian Citizens and the so-called Action Group in Western Nigeria. The NCNC had been part of the recently dissolved government coalition.

For outsiders, the significance of these two campaigning alliances is that they seem to offer one more impressive demonstration of the Nigerians' determination to find workable answers to their problems.

Without the two big canvasses these coalitions provide, Nigerian politics might at this point be bogged down hopelessly in interregional and intertribal combat.

Yet the existence of the alliances should not suggest all is rosy. Nigerian politics often flares into bitter violence, and may again. A kind of uneasy truce now rules among the competing forces.

What appears to save the country is a brand of elemental political wisdom that reflects the presence there of a sizable cadre of trained civil servants — something the chaotic Congo gravely lacks. In Nigeria there is respect for the rule of law, for justice and for freedom.

Blessed with good national and regional leaders, the country is steadily conscious of its size and consequent predominance in the general African setting.

In a very real sense Nigeria is new Africa's keystone. It has a genuine economic potential, with cotton, cacao, palm oil, nuts and a growing oil output. But there are population pressures, a shift to the cities, a mounting need for good jobs and men trained for them.

The Nigerians badly need more capital and more technical aid. Their impressive record as a young nation suggests they deserve it.

Ann Landers Fix Your Own Clocks, Girls

Dear Ann Landers: Our office is what you might call a real swingin' little group. It turns out that four girls, including myself, have been played like crazy—one against the other—by a junior executive. He is tall, dark, handsome and has the morals of an alley cat. He is also loose of lip.

When I came to work here several months ago I fell for the heel and nothing I saw or heard discouraged me. I knew he was dating three other girls in the office and I knew, too, he was blabbing about his success to the other executives. I thought surely he'd be discreet about ME because I'm the only one of the girls who had not been married.

Well, we four girls had lunch today and compared notes. The dirty dog has been using the same line on all of us—right down to the romantic phrases and pet names. We'd like to fix his clock. Any ideas? — DISTRESSED QUARTETTE

Dear Quartette: What do you mean fix HIS clock? His clock seems to be working just fine. He's been making very good time with all you dumb Doras. Never mind his clock, girls. Fix your own.

Dear Ann Landers: I am sitting up here in my room and this is where you'll be able to find me every evening for the next two weeks. What did I do that was so awful? Well, I got home from a date Saturday night one hour and 10 minutes late.

It so happens Nick's gas gauge went kafflooye and we ran out of gas 12 miles from town. We were supposed to be double-dating with my cousin and we actually were, but we decided to take a little ride after we dropped my cousin and her date off. Nick and I were alone when we ran out of gas in the cornfield. By the time I got home my folks had called my aunt and uncle, the morgue, the police station and the hospitals.

Please print my letter and tell parents that cars are machines and they DO break down once in a while and to be reasonable! — JAILBIRD

Dear Bird: Parents break down, too — especially when their kids aren't home when they should be. Every day in the year some teen-ager is killed in an automobile accident, and every parent lives with this fear.

Responsible teen-agers are considerate. They don't do impetuous and foolish things like driving 12 miles out of town when the evening should be over. Sweat out your sentence, Toots, and learn from the experience.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print this for Canadian Cook's spouse—the louse:

Your head must be as thick as your mother's by guess-and-by-golly dumplings. That wife of yours who follows the cook book is a jewel in the culinary diadem. I'll bet there are no secret failures between her stove and the garbage collector.

Perfect cookery is simple chemistry. The same ingredients baked at the same temperature for a given length of time will produce the same results consistently.

Junior had better quit telling his wife about the miracles his mother performed in the kitchen with her tasting and guessing. Logic tells us 'taint so. — AN ANN FAN

Dear Fan: Junior's family only saw the successes. Mother never served the failures, but I agree with you she must have had several.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the bobby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

The Christian Science Monitor reports in an article dated last week that at least one fleet operator plans this winter to haul iron pellets from Escanaba on the upper end of Lake Michigan to the lower tip of Lake Michigan near Chicago.

"To bolster this movement the Chicago & North Western Railway recently spent $1,300,000 for improving its Escanaba dock, serving some Northern Michigan ore mines, and in dredging the Escanaba harbor.

"The operator points out that westerly winds usually blow Lake Michigan ice toward the east shore, keeping the western half of the lake ice-free and permitting normal ship transit.

"Vessel operators feel that the experience gained from this move will provide important information for extending their season, saving not only on shipper's operations but on steel mills' cost of storing and transporting ores during winter months."

The Monitor repeats a persistent rumor but there's no all-winter ore operation this winter. Maybe next year. Last tanker has cleared the harbor. First tankers of spring will be back in 12 weeks.

Dessert Says Happy New Year

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Our best culinary thought for New Year's Eve: a molded dessert inspired by a favorite cocktail and decorated to remind party guests of the midnight hour.

So here's our Daiquiri Mold, made with lime or lemon, egg and sugar, white rum, whipped cream and unflavored gelatin. We turned the mixture into a large shallow copper-tone mold and used angelica strips to suggest the face of a clock.

The flavor of this dessert is authoritative, its texture airy. At a tasting rehearsal at our house, it was thoroughly enjoyed.

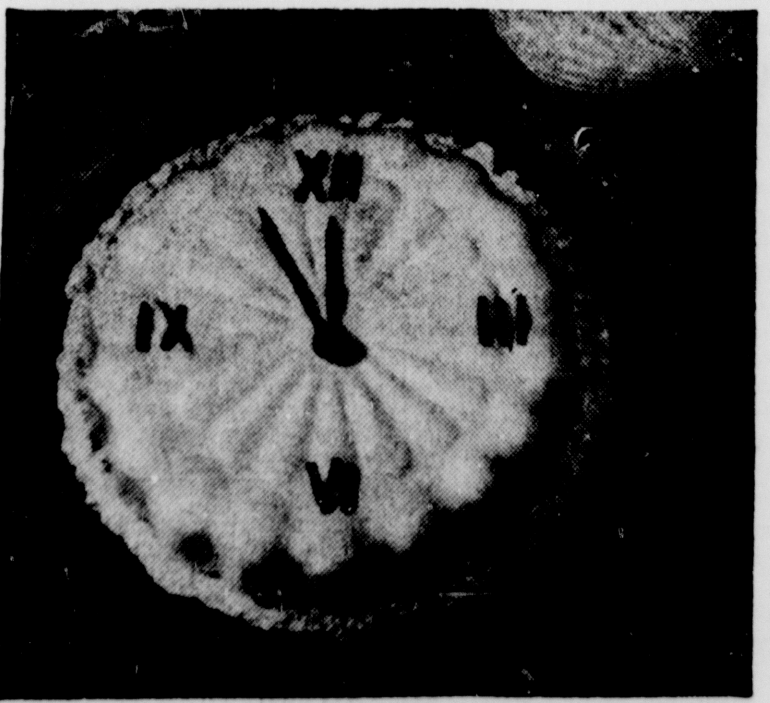

In the following recipe, we suggest that you cook the custard in a saucepan over direct heat, stirring constantly. But if there is a chance that the telephone or doorbell may interrupt your stirring, better use a double boiler. In the latter case, put the mixture over (not in) boiling water and stir often.

New Year Daiquiri Mold
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 cups sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
6 eggs, separated
1/2 cup water
1 cup fresh lime or lemon juice
3/4 cup white rum
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
Angelica
In a medium saucepan, stir together the gelatin, 1 1/2 cups of the sugar and the salt. Beat together until combined the egg yolks, water, lime juice. Gradually stir into gelatin mixture. Stir constantly over low heat until mixture thickens slightly and gelatin dissolves, 6 to 12 minutes; do not boil. Stir in rum. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. In a large bowl beat the egg whites until they hold stiff straight peaks. Gradually beat in remaining 1/2 cup sugar; continue to beat until very stiff. Fold gelatin mixture into egg whites. Then fold whipped cream into mixture. Turn into a 10-cup shallow mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Decorate with angelica to form the face of a clock. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Note: Use a shallow mold whose design is suitable for fashioning the face of a clock.

NEW YEAR'S Eve Dessert—A light-as-air mold with Daiquiri-cocktail flavor will help put spirit into a holiday celebration.

Michigan's Basketball, Football Resurgence Was Sport Highlight In 1964

By BERNIE KENNEDY

DETROIT (AP) — The resurgence of the University of Michigan as a football and basketball power and the smashing victories by individuals from the Wolverine State in the Olympic Games paced the state sports news in 1964.

U - M squads continued to win more than their share of titles in the lesser sports, but the development of the teams on the gridiron and basketball court made Michigan "The Champions of the West" again.

Last March, the U-M basketball team shared the Big Ten championship with Ohio State and went on to place third in the NCAA tournament.

Headed by All Americas Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin, the team was picked as the nation's top collegiate team in the preseason poll before the 1964-65 campaign.

The Wolverines have indicated they are determined to prove the pollsters right.

Michigan missed a perfect season in football by one point — a 21-20 setback to Purdue — but won the conference title and earned a trip to the Rose Bowl. Quarterback Bob Timberlake was named the league's Most Valuable Player and, along with tackle Bill Yearby, gained All America mention.

Fraser Honored
In other Michigan football news, the University of Detroit announced in December that it was giving up intercollegiate football.

The Titans suffered through a 3-7 season and a reported $60,000 was lost on the program this year.

On the brighter side, Albion college finished with an 8-0 season and not only was the MIAA football king but also one of the few unbeaten, untied teams in the country.

Head Coach Morley Fraser, who directed the Britons for the 11th year, was named the state's Small College Coach of the Year by the Associated Press.

Next to the news out of Ann Arbor, no story gave the state as much of a thrill as Terry McDermott's speedskating victory in the Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria.

The skating barber, as he came to be known, was the only U. S. athlete to win a Gold Medal in the winter games—and he set an Olympic record in the 400-yard dash to do it.

No less than 10 Michigan athletes won medals in the Summer Olympics at Tokyo.

Trackmen Henry Carr, Hayes Jones and Rex Cawley all won Gold Medals. Others coming home with the coveted medals were canoeist Marcie Jones, swimmers Cynthia Goyette, Gary Dille and Carl Robie, boxer Ron Harris, weightlifter Norbert Schemansky and oarsman Emery Clark.

Pro Teams Poor
While much of the good sports news in the state came from the colleges, the Detroit professional teams fared poorly. Only the Detroit Red Wings came close to bringing a title to the "City of Champions." But Toronto won the last two games of the series with Detroit and the Maple Leafs won their second straight Stanley Cup.

Red Wings goalie Terry

Sawchuk, who set a National Hockey League record for career shutouts in January, was drafted by Toronto in the summer. This left rookie Roger Crozier as the team's No. 1 goalie.

The only change in the coaching ranks came when Charley Wolf was ousted as the head man of the Detroit Pistons.

Dave DeBusschere became the youngest coach in professional sports when he took over for Wolf, who saw his team finish with a 23-57 mark in 1963-64 and appeared to be going nowhere this season.

In baseball the Tigers got exceptional performances from pitcher Dave Wickersham, who won 19 games, and catcher Bill Freehan, who batted .300.

The Tigers, too, finished in fourth place. Before the season was over, the Tigers announced the rehiring of the entire coaching staff with the exception of Wayne Blackburn, who was given a managerial job in the minors.

Catcher Mike Roarke was named Blackburn's replacement.

Karras Returns
On the football front tackle Alex Karras returned to the Lions after a one-year suspension because of admitted gambling on his own team, and played well until slowed by a groin injury.

The injury jinx again took its toll of front line players with quarterback Earl Morrall, linebacker Joe Schmidt and end Gail Cogdill all forced out with shoulder dislocations.

Milt Plum played well despite a sore elbow but the Lions could do no better than finish fourth for new owner William Clay Ford.

The Lions followed up their so-so season with the firing of five assistant coaches and the resignation of head coach George Wilson.

Wilson announced his departure Dec. 23, a scant 48 hours after he and owner Ford announced the dismissal of the Lions' five assistant coaches.

Ford said he did not expect to name a new head coach until after the first of the year.

In the state high school basketball tournament, Benton Harbor rallied in the second half to win the Class A crown, but Detroit area schools captured the other three titles.

River Rouge won its fourth straight Class B title, Grosse Pointe St. Paul won in Class C and Britton-Macon in Class D.

"Wait 'Til Next . . ."
East Lansing, the state's only unbeaten team in Class A was named Associated Press high school football champion. Albion got the nod in Class B, while Middleville edged Watervliet by a single point on the last week of the season to take C-D honors.

In golf, Doug Hankey of St. Johns replaced Melvin (Bud) Stevens as the state amateur champion.

Tony Lema won the Buick Open and Bobby Nichols captured the first $200,000 World Golf Championship at Oakland Hills.

The city of Detroit promoted the Gold Cup hydroplane race, won by Miss Bardahl, but then lost in its bid to stage the event again in 1965.

The Red Wings, in the thick of the race; the Tigers, counting on a bumper crop of farmhands from Syracuse; the Lions, who signed four of their top five draft choices, and the improving Pistons all had the same comment with regard to the 1964 season: "Wait 'till next year."

Rose Bowl Notes

Southern Cal Still Unhappy

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Make no mistake about it — Southern California students and alumni are still unhappy about not playing Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

The initials "SC" were burned into the turf at the Rose Bowl last week.

But groundskeepers repaired the markings and Southern Cal's initials will not be seen come game time.

Sunny California has been anything but that since the Rose Bowl rivals arrived.

After a brief glimpse of the sun a week ago last Monday, neither team has seen it since.

"This is the worst weather I've seen here in a number of years," is a typical native Californian's remark.

But the Wolverines and Beavers are still wondering if the sun ever shines here.

"You could be born here and celebrate 10 birthdays before you'd see the sun," U-M quarterback Bob Timberlake remarked.

If Rose Bowl champions were decided by pounds of prime ribs consumed, the Wolverines would be in.

A Los Angeles restaurant, famous for its prime ribs, had the Oregon State team as its guests early last week and the Beavers put away 230 pounds of beef.

Michigan was also invited. But Coach Bump Elliott felt it would be too much to take the boys to LA and said the only way the Wolverines could accept the invitation would be if they could eat after practice.

Tables were set up outside the Rose Bowl itself last Saturday and the Wolverines beat the OSU eaters by 20 pounds.

A Pasadena sports writer, who does the same type of thing every year, wrote a "game" story last Saturday telling how the Wolverines defeated the Beavers in the Rose Bowl.

In case you're interested, the score was 10-3 with Rick Volk's 55-yard pass interception return provided the winning margin.

Povolo Is Top Point Producer In U.P. Ranks

MARQUETTE — For the first time in the history of Upper Peninsula high school basketball, five players are hitting at better than a 30-point-a-game clip.

Ron Povolo, who at 5-9 is proving there's still room on the basketball court for a good smaller player, is pacing the pack with an even 35-point average. His 175 points are the main reason why his unbeaten Hermansville team has pounded the laces at an almost unbelievable average of 95 per game through its first five outings.

With Povolo in the select over-30 circle are Trout Creek's Bob Gale, 220 points in seven games; Negaunee St. Paul's Dom Jacobetti, 250 in eight games; Carney's Cliff Perras, 154 in five games, and Garden's Barry Rochefort, 181 in six games.

Jacobetti, who trailed Povolo by less than a point for the runner-up spot to high-scoring champion Pat Groleau, Nahma, last winter, was slowed by the flu in final pre-holiday action and played only one quarter, scoring 12 points. That sliced his average from 35 to just over 31.

Besides topping the Peninsula's individual scorers in the average list, Povolo also has a season's high single-game score of 53 points, tallied when Hermansville gained a 109-90 decision over previously unbeaten Channing. The best Jacobetti has done was 44 in one game, while Trout Creek's Bob Gale has a 43 and two 39's to his credit.

Twenty players are averaging better than 20 points per game in the Peninsula, including five who finished over that mark last season. They were Povolo, Jacobetti, L'Anse's Joe Marinich, Rapid River's Doug Moss and Ewen's Joe Weber.

The list of top scorers, together with the number of points scored by each, games played (in parentheses) and averages, follows:

Ron Povolo, Hermansville, 175 (5), 35.0; Bob Gale, Trout Creek, 220 (7), 31.4; Dom Jacobetti, Negaunee St. Paul, 250 (8), 31.3; Cliff Perras, Carney, 154 (5), 30.8; Barry Rochefort, Garden, 181 (6), 30.2; Gary Blomquist, Felch, 144 (5), 28.8; Paul Albright, Marquette, 172 (6), 28.7; Doug Perttunen, Ishpeming, 191 (7), 27.3; Joe Marinich, L'Anse, 145 (7), 27.1; Doug Moss, Rapid River, 157 (6), 26.2; Clayton Olson, Channing, 136 (6), 22.7; Joe Weber, Ewen, 157 (7), 22.4; Peter Wickley, Hancock, 134 (6), 22.3; Phil Hartman, Cooks, 130 (6), 21.7; Gary Flynn, Trenary, 150 (7), 21.4; Pat Murphy, Sault Lorette, 149 (7), 21.5; Rick Crews, Rudyard, 124 (6), 20.7; Terry Laroscheid, Nahma, 164 (8), 20.5; Mel Ruohonen, White Pine, 160 (8), 20.0; Dave Vertanen, Chasell, 100 (5), 20.0.

Cliff Perras guided the Wolves to their big bulge in the first quarter with eight points while Bob Macco added six, Fred Janofski and Wayne Sunila four apiece.

Perras, Macco and Janofski gave Carney control of both boards and Perras took scoring honors in the game with 18 points. Clayton Olson tallied 16 for Coach Don Benzie's Channing quint.

Last night's schedule was unexpectedly cut to three games when Hermansville failed to show because of the snow storm and forfeited to the host P-S Tigers.

In the remaining game, Felch tripped Champion by a 67-62 margin to give Coach Carl Lemmin's cagers their first triumph of the tourney.

The Foresters led 13-9 at the end of the first period and 33-25 at the half, but Champion rallied to narrow the deficit in the third and fourth quarters.

Gary Blomquist pitched in 29 points to pace the Felch attack while John Boback canned 24 for Champion.

8:45 — Hermansville vs. Carney

POWERS - SPALDING — The string runs out tonight for one of the two teams with perfect records in the Holiday Basketball tournament.

Hermansville and Carney sailed through Tuesday night semifinal action to set the stage for tonight's blue chip clash for the tournament crown.

Both teams enter the title game with seven straight triumphs this season. They are among only six teams in the Upper Peninsula boasting unblemished records.

Action begins in the tourney finals at 5 this evening when Michigamme and Champion tangle, both teams seeking their first victory of the tournament. Alpha meets Channing at 6:15 and Powers takes on Felch at 7:30. The title game is scheduled to begin at 8:45.

Coach Don Hill's Redskins had no trouble advancing to the finals with a 75-51 verdict over Alpha. Hermansville boomed out to a 26-12 lead in the first quarter and the Mastodons were never able to recover.

Ron Povolo, the 5 foot 9 inch Hermansville bucket bagger, ran into early foul trouble and was "held" to 30 points, six under his average. The senior sharpie had three fouls in the first half and picked up his fourth midway in the third quarter.

The Redskins gave Povolo a strong supporting performance, however, with Marty Smith coming through with 14 points and six other players gaining the scoreboard.

Hermansville's first half press produced a 39-23 advantage at the intermission. Greg Leonard paced the losers with 14 points.

Coach Bob Kuntze's Carney Wolves made short work of the Channing Railroaders by ripping off a 22-7 lead in the first quarter. Channing rallied to cut the deficit to 28-20 at halftime and came within seven points in the fourth frame but was unable to catch up.

Cliff Perras guided the Wolves to their big bulge in the first quarter with eight points while Bob Macco added six, Fred Janofski and Wayne Sunila four apiece.

Perras, Macco and Janofski gave Carney control of both boards and Perras took scoring honors in the game with 18 points. Clayton Olson tallied 16 for Coach Don Benzie's Channing quint.

Last night's schedule was unexpectedly cut to three games when Michigamme failed to show because of the snow storm and forfeited to the host P-S Tigers.

In the remaining game, Felch tripped Champion by a 67-62 margin to give Coach Carl Lemmin's cagers their first triumph of the tourney.

The Foresters led 13-9 at the end of the first period and 33-25 at the half, but Champion rallied to narrow the deficit in the third and fourth quarters.

Gary Blomquist pitched in 29 points to pace the Felch attack while John Boback canned 24 for Champion.

GLADSTONE

Two Girls, 16, Hurt In Crash

Two 16-year-old Rapid River girls, injured Tuesday afternoon when their car slammed into a jack-knifed semi-trailer truck on US-2 in Ensign Township, were reported improving today at St. Francis Hospital.

Ruth Ann Gullickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gayhart M. Gullickson and driver of the car, was listed in "good" condition after treatment for a fractured right leg and head injuries.

Karen Sundquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Sundquist and a passenger in the car, was reported in "satisfactory" condition. Hospital officials said she suffered head and facial cuts and bruises.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said the accident happened at 2:45 p.m., eight tenths of a mile east of Co. Rd. 513.

Truck driver David Devoy, 27, of Warren, Mich., told police his truck jack-knifed across the slippery highway into the path of the Gullickson car when he applied his brakes as he approached another car. He was ticketed by State Police for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Troopers ticketed Richard Shepich, 25, of Berkley, Mich., for improper passing after his car struck a car driven by Louis Weiland, 39, of 1813 12th Ave. N., Escanaba, on US-2, just west of Co. Rd. 513 in Masonville Township. Shepich told police that as he attempted to pass a snow plow he was forced over the center line.

State Police said a car driven by George Lotquist of Rte. 1, Escanaba, was damaged when struck from behind by a car driven by a 16-year-old Bark River girl on US-2-41 west of Escanaba in Wells Township.

There is no official flag for the members of Congress.

In Service

Oliver Desotell ABH3, who is serving on board the USS Randolph in Norfolk, Va., spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. William R. Robinson. Robinson is also in the Navy and is stationed with Beach Jumper Unit Two, Little Creek, Norfolk. Both Desotell and Robinson are making the Navy their careers. Robinson is a third class Gunners Mate. Both men would appreciate receiving news about men from the Gladstone area who are serving in the area of Norfolk, Va.

Water Project Audit Ordered

The Manistique City Council decided at its meeting Monday night to have a certified public accountant audit the A. P. W. water project before the city receives the remainder of the Federal funds. This action followed a report by City Manager Sam Gesko.

In other business, the Council discussed downtown lighting and Mayor White spoke on the different types that could be used. Lights for the beginning ice rink were also discussed but no action taken pending further investigation.

A resolution to table the matter of the Sangraw property until the Jan. 25 meeting was made.

A letter from the Department of Revenue concerning the sale of gas for school use was read but the council decided to look further into the matter before taking action.

Payments to the Civil Defense organization were discussed but action was deferred pending further investigation.

Buick Puts Out New Sports Car

DETROIT (AP) — Buick Motors dangled another tidbit in front of the so-called youth market Tuesday when it previewed its low-priced sports model, the Skylark Gran Sport.

Edward D. Rolt, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of Buick, said the new car would have a basic price tag of $2,682.

That would put it in direct competition with the Ford Mustang, the Pontiac GTO and some other sporty cars.

It was the second "1965-1/2" model introduced by Buick in recent weeks. In late November the Riviera Gran Sport, featuring a 425 cubic inch engine and many sports features, was introduced.

Rolt said the Skylark Gran Sport "is glamorous in appearance, but it is not just a standard chassis with a big engine (325 horsepower) dropped in it."

Production of the new Skylark will get under way in January with 1,500 due to roll off the assembly line that month. Rolt set a target of 15,000 sales by the end of June.

Rolt said the car was not designed for competition but is for "the one who wants a lively car."

He pointed out that the new Skylark was aimed primarily at the 16 million persons in the United States who are under 35 years of age, and added: "It also will appeal to the young in heart."

Buick's surveys showed that 63 per cent of car buyers under 25 years of age bought two-door models and, thus, the new Skylark Gran Sport will be offered in three models, all two-doors—a convertible, a hardtop and a thin pillar coupe.

The car was shown at a press preview at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Church Women Start New Year

The first meeting of the new year of Zion Lutheran Church Women will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Augustana Hall with the education committee in charge. The program will feature a film in color entitled "New Faces of Africa." A regular business meeting and installation of officers will also be held followed by refreshments served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Julius Settergren, chairman; Mrs. Signe Cameron, Mrs. Barney Nelson, Mrs. Glenn Neeson, Mrs. Arthur Lehman, Mrs. Anton Olson, Mrs. Alex Cooper and Mrs. Lydia Strom. All ladies of the church and their guests are invited.

New Custodian Hired At School

Ernest Derwin, Jr., of 331 Oak St. was hired as the new custodian for the Manistique School District at a special meeting of the Manistique Board of Education Monday night. The action was taken after reviewing several applications and upon the recommendation of Supt. E. E. Wuehle, and the head custodian.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Lillian Beaudry, Garden; Vern Dixon, 208 Weston Ave.; Lois Middaugh, Cooks; Orill LaBute, Garden; Robert Larson, 720 Garden; Vernon Livermore, Germfask; Bertha Dixon, N. 4th; Nancy Dalgord, Fayette; Alfred Davis, Engadine; Judy Reid, N. Cedar; Matthew Lindvall, 346 Lake St. Discharged were Louise McKenzie, Mary Tyrrell, Eileen Brock and baby.

Taylor Painting Graces Map For Federal Forest

The U. S. Forest Service has added to the Upper Peninsula's free - on - request literature a handsome large sportsman's map of the eastern part of the Hiawatha National Forest.

The folded map is the second published by the Forest Service to make the resources of the Hiawatha Forest better known to the public. Last year Forest Service published a map of the Manistique, Munising and Rapid River ranger districts of the Hiawatha Forest extending from Gladstone and Eben Junction on the west to Manistique on the east.

The new map covers the Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace ranger districts of the forest, extending from Brevort and Hulbert east to Bay Mills and Hessel.

The new maps will be available from the ranger stations at St. Ignace and at Sault Ste. Marie, and from the forest headquarters office in Escanaba. The map shows the federal ownership in the forest, roads, trails, railroads, buildings, recreational sites, ranger stations and other installations.

The other side of the map pictures timber harvesting, blasting of duck ponds in the Ogontz marsh, seeding of cover crops for game feed, water analysis, controlled burning, fishing and wildlife.

William Taylor, of Ford River, wildlife management specialist of the forest, has painted the picture of sandhill cranes used on the cover and a pair of ruffed grouse pictured on the other side. Taylor executed the pictures in water colors. He is a graduate of Cornell University and received his Master of Science degree in wildlife biology from Michigan State University. He also painted the picture of bald eagle used on the Manistique-Munising-Rapid River range districts map.

The map reports that there are 832,000 acres of public land in the Hiawatha Forest all open to sportsmen for hunting and fishing. "This forest supports thriving wildlife populations: black bear, whitetailed deer, snowshoe hares, raccoons, foxes, bobcats and coyotes. Bald eagles nest in the remote areas."

"Spruce and ruffed grouse, barred and long-eared owls, goshawks and ravens call this forest home. Sandhill cranes and sharp-tailed grouse frequent its larger openings. Beaver, muskrats and otter are residents on most of its lakes and streams. The American, the hooded, the red-breasted merganser, the loon, ringneck, bufflehead, American goldeneye, the black-duck, mallard, wood duck, and scaup use the lakes and streams for nesting or as resting places during migration."

"Its waters support the rainbow, the brown and the brook trout. Large and smallmouth bass, walleyes, Northern pike and panfish are common."

"The Hiawatha is yours to enjoy. Plan an early arrival at a campground. The developed sites provide tables, benches, fireplaces, well water, tent pads, garbage receptacles, and toilets. Family units are available on a first-come, first-served basis—you cannot reserve one. At some of these campgrounds a small fee may be charged."

Foreign College Students Visit Plant In Flint
EAST LANSING (AP)—As a group of 82 foreign college students prepared to start a factory tour, a girl from Turkey picked up a magazine reporting on "what's right with America."

Somewhat surprised, Ayfel Soyler asked: "What's wrong with America?"

Then the group went on to look at an example of American ingenuity—an auto production line in Flint which turns out 72 cars an hour—and asked probing questions of the engineers and administrators.

They were impressed. But there was merry applause when, in answer to a question, an official admitted that occasionally there is a slip in which, for instance, a red car comes out with a green fender.

Contributions To Chips Welcomed
August Schultz of Schaffer has a hobby of raising wild game birds at his place and he has a number of geese, pheasants and ducks there. Last week he added an owl to his collection—but lost one of his geese in the process.

The big horned owl came swooping down to kill one of the Canadian geese. Schultz left the body of the goose there as bait and set a couple of traps near it.

Sure enough, the owl returned the next night to the scene of the crime and was caught in the act. Schultz reported that the owl had a wing spread of four feet from tip to tip.

Garden Peninsula

Wallace John Cameron of Athens, Ohio, spent several days of vacation visiting relatives at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Clara Potvin, and at the Bernard Bodeltes.

Randall McPhee, Lansing, Neil McPhee, Muskegon, and Gordon Lee McPhee, Chicago, spent Christmas weekend at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McPhee. Visitors Christmas Day were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reno and daughters, Gladstone, Mrs. Sarah Giusiano and Mrs. Grace Griffin, Garden.

National Forest Timber Sale

RAPID RIVER RANGER DISTRICT HARVEST AREA
Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, U.S. Forest Service, Escanaba, Michigan, up to 2:00 P.M. (EST) February 4, 1965, and will be opened immediately thereafter for all live timber marked or designated for cutting and all merchantable dead timber located on an area of 345 acres in Sections 21 and 22, Township 42 North, Range 21 West, Michigan Meridian, Hiawatha National Forest. No bid less than the minimum rates shown below for each species and product will be considered. The estimated volumes and minimum rates are: 520 cords Aspen and Paper Birch pulpwood (90+ % Aspen) at $0.95 per rough cord; 520 cords of Balsam Fir and Spruce pulpwood at $3.40 per rough cord. The above rates include deposit for sale area betterment. Under certain conditions, the Forest Service may, upon execution of a written agreement with the purchaser, base stumpage charges on the scale of pulpwood by the receiving agency. In addition to the above volumes there is an unestimated amount of Balm-of-Gilead pulpwood which may be cut upon written agreement with the Forest Service. A deposit of $100.00 with bid as called for on the bid form shall be in the form of a certified check, bank draft, cashier's check, or money order and must accompany each bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to the conditions of sale. Bids submitted without the above form of deposit will require rejection of the bid as unresponsive. A bond of $200.00 will be required. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale, and the submission of bids should be obtained from the District Ranger, U.S. Forest Service, Rapid River, Michigan, or from the Forest Supervisor, U. S. Forest Service, Escanaba, Michigan.

Briefly Told

Garbage collections that are made in Escanaba on Friday will be made on Saturday this week, it is announced by Kenneth Tushak, public works superintendent. The change is because Friday this week is New Year's Day.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court ticket to Judith Aone Frasher, 1500 Washington Ave., for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Application for a marriage license was made Tuesday at the County Clerk's office by David Arnold Wilson, 1721 1st Ave. S., Escanaba, and Lois Jean Erickson, 301 S. 14th St., Escanaba.

The Planning Commission in a year-end meeting Tuesday afternoon at the City Hall reviewed planning activities in the community. Action was taken to refuse an offer by Arvid Mustonen Jr. of Escanaba to give the city a parcel of land with a 40-foot frontage in the 1300 block, S. 14th St.

Two pickup trucks which were parked on the shoulder of U. S. 2 and 41 north of the Escanaba River Bridge were damaged and Del C. Konkel, 34, of Rte. 2, Bark River, was slightly injured in a traffic accident at 11:50 a. m. Tuesday, according to Delta County Sheriff's Dept. reports. Deputies said that Konkel's car skidded on ice when he attempted to apply the brakes and struck one truck, pushing it into the second. The drivers of the trucks were not injured. No tickets were issued.

Dr. Lee de Forest is called the "father of radio."

Mrs. Kennedy Doing Well As Ski Beginner

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy skis down the deep powder snow on Butter-milk Mountain in a style "a little above average" for a beginner, her instructor said today.

"She's got fine balance," said Tim Carter, an expert teaching her the art of skiing on the gently rising peak near her holiday chalet.

"Mrs. Kennedy falls very seldom, which shows her experience as a water skier and horsewoman," Carter said. "She was a little tired the first day, Sunday, but she's becoming adjusted to the altitude 7,913 ft. and appears a little stronger every day."

Mrs. Kennedy, with her children Caroline, 7, and John Jr., 4, is staying here through Sunday. Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., four of his children, and other Kennedys are in the holidaying party.

Give History Of Lumbering

The colorful era of "the big trees," a history of lumbering in the Delta County area written by Carl Sawyer of Escanaba, was presented in a program to the Rotary Club at its meeting Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

Sawyer's "History of Lumbering" describes the methods of lumbering from the locating of stands of timber to the cutting of the logs and the drives down the rivers in springtime, together with a listing of firms that operated in this area.

President of the Sawyer-Stoll Timber Co. and veteran woodsman, Sawyer has devoted considerable time to writing the story of lumbering from the early pine days down to the present. Copies of his papers have been presented to the Delta County Historical Society.

Sawyer was a member of the Rotary Club's program committee for December. Excerpts from the history of lumbering were read by Clint Dunathan and the commentary was illustrated with slides.

Robert Haack, Rotary president, conducted the meeting. Ralph Kaziateck, Escanaba Daily Press manager, was elected to membership in the club.

The Escanaba Daily Press has 95 per cent coverage in the City of Escanaba, 94 per cent in the City of Gladstone, 90 per cent in the City of Manistique and 83 per cent throughout Delta County. The Daily Press is a welcome visitor in 10,400 homes daily in a five-county Central Upper Peninsula area. Smart advertisers use the Escanaba Daily Press.

Mack Gets Delay In Razing Of State Hatchery

Plans to raze the Watersmeet fish hatchery will be held in abeyance for six months, State Senator-elect Joseph S. Mack of Ironwood said he has been informed by Doria Curry of the State Conservation Department at Lansing.

Several months ago the department announced that it was closing the Watersmeet hatchery, along with others.

Mack said that he was informed a few days ago that the hatchery, which he said represents an investment of $60,000 to $70,000 would be razed. He said that he protested the razing plan to Curry in a telephone call Sunday.

Mack said that it was hoped that the hatchery could be disposed of to private interests for use as a private hatchery or put to some other use of economic benefits to the area.
